Happenings in and Around Frank

J. S. Piper was in Frank this week.

A. J. Lewis was down from Calgary on Friday.

The bars were closed here on Tuesday, the day on which the village elections were held.

A. N. Mouat, of Pincher Creek, was registered at the Rocky Mountain sanatorium on Thursday.

The Crows Nest Pass Liquor Association held their annual meeting in the Frank hotel on Monday last.

When buying a cough medicine for children bear in mind that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is most effective for colds, croup and whooping cough and that it contains no harmful drug. For sale by all dealers.

Knob Methodist Church, Rev. W. T. Young, pastor, Sunday school every Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Service every Sunday evening at 7:30.

W. J. Budd, of Calgary, and E. A. Cunningham, of Lethbridge, were in town last week in the interest of the Keystone Portland Cement Co.

Rev. W. T. Young, who had been conducting evangelistic services at Carmangay during the past two weeks, returned to Frank on Wednesday morning.

Election for school trustees to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of A. V. Young, was held in the school house on Wednesday when the following were nominated as suitable persons to fill the position: H. C. Moore, J. J. Thomas and Frank Weir. Mr. Thomas withdrew and the voting on remaining nominees resulted in the election of Frank Weir who succeeded in getting 11 votes as against Mr. Moore's 7.

Frank at Pincher Creek

On Wednesday, Jan. 3rd, the Frank hockey team with a good crowd of supporters journeyed to Pincher Creek and met with their first defeat of the season, being beaten by a score of 6-1. As the Frank team was short two men, Dawson and McLeod, the score was not so large as was expected by the Frank supporters.

The game, which was called for 7:30 p.m., was as usual rather late in starting so it was decided to play two 25 minute halves. The game started with both teams working hard and roughing it to a considerable extent. About half way through the first half, referee T. Moore stopped the play and told both teams that unless they cut out the rough stuff he would be obliged to send the whole fourteen men to the fence. After this warning both teams settled down somewhat and played better hockey. Gillespie scored the first goal for Pincher. McGowan of Frank put one in shortly after and tying the score. Daper landed another for Pincher leaving the score 2-2 at half time.

In the second half Frank tried hard to hold its own, at times having the whole team, with the exception of the goal tender, playing in Pincher's net. Their efforts were of no avail however, for Waugh of Pincher, taking advantage of Frank's defense, playing out so far, scored four goals. Considerable rough work was indulged in and it kept the referee busy handing out penalties during this half. Much credit is due Mr. Moore on the capable manner in which he handled the game.

Rhynes played goal and Dunlop played left wing for Frank. McMillan played right wing for Pincher Creek. The other players were those who met at Frank on Friday.

McGowan Secures a Large Vote

The elections for the village of Frank were held on Tuesday last. The polling booth was at the public school and voting was carried on from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. There were seven candidates for civic honors, two of the old councillors, J. Whiller and Harvey Murphy, were amongst the number. The following is the result of the voting with the first three named elected as councillors for 1912:

W. J. McGowan	84
Jake Whiller	65
Harvey Murphy	37
Frank Weir	30
A. J. Blais	24
J. T. Thomas	18

Will Give the Law

Strict Observance

A meeting of the Crows Nest Pass Liquor Association was held at the Frank hotel on Monday morning last. The business included the election of delegates to attend a convention of the liquor people to be held in the city of Calgary on the 25th inst. A price list, affecting both the wholesale and retail dealers, was passed on. The secretary, W. H. Murr, advocated strict observance of the liquor law, and acting on Mr. Murr's suggestion each member put up $100 which amount will be forfeited by the person violating the law in any form. No doubt this will tend toward a continuation of well and orderly conducted licensed hotels in this and other towns in The Pass.

Pincher at Frank

For the second time this season Frank was defeated by the Pincher Creek team here on Friday afternoon the score being 3-2. The game from start to finish was a poor exhibition of hockey and was any boy's game until the final whistle blew. Pincher won out by superior team work, the Frank boys failing to play combination but depending too much on individual play.

In the first twenty minutes the play was rather slow, both teams evidently saving themselves for the final. Purkiss for Pincher netted the first goal and McKay for Frank opened up things shortly after. Whiley of Pincher got another making it 2-1 at the end of the period. McLeod of Frank received a nasty cut on the head but was able to continue in the game.

During the second period both teams played hard and considerable rough work was indulged in. Waugh of Pincher managed to net one making it 3-1. Gillespie of Pincher had his eye badly cut and was obliged to drop out of the game. R. H. Ormond taking his place. Rourke of Frank received a nasty cut on the face but was able to continue after having it dressed.

In the third and last period Frank certainly did try hard to overcome Pincher's lead but were only successful in getting one goal, McLeod and Hughes doing the trick after a nice piece of combination. McCullough, Pincher's goal keeper, did some fine work in this period and the Pincher team gave him to thank for the final score of 3-2.

A feature of the game was the work of D. M. Ormond who acted as judge of play. Opinions differ as to whether his decisions were right or not, but one thing is certain and that is that Mr. Ormond is one of the first men to ever act in the double capacity of judge of play and coacher to his own team and get away with it. Mr. Ormond was not satisfactory as a judge of play. The line up was as follows:

Frank	Pincher Creek
McGowan	goal
Hughes	point
Rourke	Gillespie
c. point	Ormond
McKay	rover
McCullough	White
Dawson	center
t. wing	Waugh
s. wing	Daper
Referee	Furkiss
M. G. Rhynes	Judge of play

D. M. Ormond.

Happenings in and Around Bellevue

Clém Stubbs left for the east on Monday night.

I. McAuby left on Tuesday for Princeton, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cameron, of Hillcrest, are visiting in Calgary.

Mr. Irwin will preach next Sunday on the subject "The Modern Pharisee."

Mr. and Mrs. Barwick have moved into town from Kipp, Alta., and are located in house 13.

The management of the mine gave a holiday on Tuesday to all men who had not secured their lamps by 8 a.m.

W. J. Cole is adding a bowling alley to his pool room. Edward Christy has the contract for enlarging the building for its installation.

W. Young, of South Fork, is spending a few days in Macleod and Mrs. Young is visiting with Mrs. Cawthorne during his absence.

The birthday of the immortal "Bobby Burns" will be fittingly observed by a social given by his Scotch friends in the Socialist hall on January 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hallworth entertained a few of their friends at cards at their home on Wednesday evening, when a very pleasant time was spent.

When given as soon as the croupy cough appears Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will ward off an attack of croup and prevent all disease and cause of sore throat. Thousand of mothers use it successfully. Sold by all dealers.

Miss Rogers, who was to have taken charge of the primary department of the public school on January 9th, has been delayed a few days in getting here. The primary department will be opened as soon as she arrives.

Medicines that aid nature are always most effective. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It allays the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Thousands have testified to its superior excellence. Sold by all dealers.

A meeting held in the school house on Sunday morning arrangements were completed for the organizing of the Bellevue band. There are twenty instruments in sight and this should make the finest musical aggregation in the Crows Nest Pass. Officers were elected as follows: Hon. President, J. J. Fleutot; President, J. R. McDonald; Hon. Vice-President, R. W. Coulthard and R. Green; Vice-President, Albert Hallworth; Committee, J. J. Raynor, T. M. Burnett, J. J. Walters, W. J. Cole, J. J. Callau, William Evans, Steve Humble, W. H. Chapell, Robert Connelly, Dr. MacKenzie; Trustees, Geo. Goodwin, Steve Rossia, Albert Hallworth, William Chappell; Band Leader, G. W. Goodwin; sub-leader Pete Garella; Secretary J. J. Raynor. A meeting of the board of management will be held on Friday evening.

Forestry upon the Eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains was only begun by the setting aside of 13,000,000 acres as a permanent public forest. In order that this area may be protected from fire may be made accessible to lumbermen, settlers, ranchers and all others who wish to use it, and in order that it may be so developed that every acre be continually producing valuable timber it is necessary that a great deal of improvement work be undertaken.

BINGS' BARGAIN

And the Way He Turned His Purchase to Account.

By LAURA ALTON PAYNE.

"What dat, 'Bings'?" cooed the bald spot, spread like a small shining desert in an oasis of thick blood hair on 'Bings' well-shaped head.

Whitlock grinned.

"Mamma yet mustn't be naughty," said the pretty widow, turning her brown eyes imploringly on 'Bings'. "Come to mamma dearie. Mr. Bings isn't used to babies."

But the dimpled cherub, otherwise Baby Moffat, who had purposed and after many backslidings climbed upon the rustic seat occupied by 'Bings', for whom she had evinced a decided partiality from the start, only snuggled closer to the seat, only snuggled closer. And when she awoke, bright 'Bings' was a happy afterthought. "Mamma 'ave 'Bings' at which frank and wholly unexpected revelation of her small daughter the pretty girl's face rived 'Bings'.

Whitlock, glauvated, "Aren't you chokin' him?" he urged, with manicured levity at his rival's discomfiture. But 'Bings', with a hasty adieu, fled, leaving the cherub disconsolate.

'Bings' metaphorically kicked himself at all the way home, not taking advantage of his best opportunity ever had, even if it was before the smirking Whitlock, and for his cowardly desertion of the pretty widow to Whitlock's caustic rally.

'Bings' paused at his own gate and gazed miserably at the big silent house. He was a dimpled cherub, but he had seen the pretty widow and the cherub sitting on the front porch. It was a blissful vision, but 'Bings' felt that it would never become a blissful reality unless a miracle happened.

But as a cherub, a dimpled cherub, and bald and bald, 'Bings' was bald—in fact. 'Bings' was a whole swarm of "B's". He narrowly escaped being a beauty with his baby complexion and innocent blue eyes. His size was the only thing that saved him from this hideous fate. Moreover, 'Bings' was a balding baldie, no woman could scent a balding baldie farther off than could 'Bings' Bings. Incidentally 'Bings' was the climax to 'Bings' woes. But no persuasion on his part could convince him of the absurdity of calling a six foot 'Bings'.

'Bings' bachelorthood was a condition of neither birth nor achievement—was thrust upon him. During his evolution into this state he had been a poor, discontented and wretched. That 'Bings' would have been only too happy to have endowed with half his worldly goods but for his excessive bashfulness. Never yet had he been able to screw his courage up to the point of proposal, though he had made almost superhuman efforts in that direction.

This seemed a pity, for 'Bings' was undeniably cut out for a Benedict. He indeed all women angels and all babies cherubs.

A dimpled cherub upon the momentous morning after his precipitate flight 'Bings' had a particular cherub in mind—a prett, brown eyed, dimpled cherub that he would have given half his worth to possess and the other half to his enemies. The prett, brown eyed cherub. But so far, even inance from Mrs. Jessie Moffat's regular eyes had produced the unfortunate effect of instantaneous paralysis of poor 'Bings' tongue, so that he could only stammer or blurt and stammer like any silly boy.

This was not the first time by any means that 'Bings' had performed that metaphorical feat. It had been at least a semiweekly occurrence for several months past. Each time 'Bings' vowed that this time he would be successful in the plumping of the Venger.

These are the concluding sentences:

"Lo, all flags, streamers, jacks, every flag of tricolor that will yet run on rope flies rustling aloft, the whole crowd to the upper deck, and without a universal soul maddening yell.

"Vive la republique!" sinking, sinking. She staggers, she lurches, her last drunk whirl. Ocean yawns abysmally; down rushes the Venger, carrying 'Vive la republique!' along with her, unconquerable, into eternity."

"Whitby Jet," he muttered. "If something doesn't happen soon I'll—

"Going, going—gone!"

'Bings' picked up his ears and hastened his steps. An auction and he would be a slave, buying a slave. He came upon a familiy scene just as a table was knocked down to the highest bidder. 'Bings' eyes glinted over the unusual display of household goods spread before him.

"Confound it!" he muttered. "If something doesn't happen soon I'll—

"Going, going—gone!"

'Bings' picked up his ears and hastened his steps. An auction and he would be a slave, buying a slave. After investigation, 'Bings' admitted that not a word of this thrilling story was true except that the Venger sank.

Small, but Deadly.

The fly, the flea and the mosquito are the vermin that are the bane of man in the disease they carry. The fly carries disease which decimate the native population of the African highlands. The mosquito spreads malaria, the most ubiquitous of tropical diseases, and is suspected of propagating cholera. In the last case there is usually only one kind of flea, Pulex cheopis, which spreads the infection, and the other fleas which might spread it—the Ceratophyllus fasciata and the Fyssus cinctus. The Ceratophyllus fasciata is human blood, though the female is human blood, though she had time to think he was bidding furiously against his rival. Fast in the grip of "barber" fever, and whetted on to "whitlow" bites, right here, possessed of various articles that were as much use to him at that period of his existence as a celestial harp and a pair of wings. Had 'Bings' interrupted the exchange of winks between Whitlock and the auctioneer he might have been more cautious. "As it was, he had the whole world around 'Bings' head.

"Going, going—gone!" shouted the auctioneer. "Dirt cheap at that, Mr. 'Bings'. Here, save wheel this perambulator around to Mr. 'Bings'."

Perambulator! Heaven! Had he bought a perambulator? 'Bings' wiped his perspiring brow and gazed debonairly around.

"Why, 'Bings'!" cried a laughing feminine voice at his elbow. "What do you want with a perambulator?"

'Bings' exasperated gaze encountered that of Miss Marion, the pretty widow. By her side stood the pretty widow with the coveted cherub clinging to her hand...

'Bings' turned fiery red and caught wildly in his hat, or where he supposed it to be, out of sight that he was failure, failure with it. "Ain't I a lame-bambooed boy?" he began to mope his perspiring face violently.

"Here's yer prambul'nt," said Sam laconically, pausing in front of 'Bings'. 'Bings' those dilated eyes on Sam, which seemed to have greatly increased in size during its progress from the auctioneer's stand.

"A baby's high chair," announced another laughing voice as the speaker craned forward and inspected 'Bings' cherub.

"There was a general craning of necks. "A doll and a doll carriage."

"A doll's car."

"Footstool, workbasket, sewing chair and sewing machine," enumerated Whitlock, smiling nearer. "Great job, 'Bings'! What does this agen'?"

Lake City

Is the name of the Western Terminal Point of the proposed Crow's Nest Pass Electric Railway and is already tapped by the Pass line of the C. P. R., while the G. N. R. has already approached to within a few score of miles and must eventually pass through this admirably located town.

Lake City

Is located by the shore of Crow's Nest Lake, only a few miles east of the provincial boundary between Alberta and British Columbia, and just north of the international line.
In reality, it is at the top of Canada where the majestic Rockies tower in serene magnificence over great chasms and numerous fords, reflecting their presence on the waters of this beautiful lake. Here also are afforded the very best tasks for the daring mountain climber and for huntsman who desires to outrival the quiet ways of the Rocky Mountain goat, sheep, deer or elk, which are the monarchy thereon.
In close proximity are numerous timber, mineral and fuel resources, development of which is now in its initial stages.
These resources include gold quartz, coal, iron and pulp wood.

Crow's Nest Lake has long been looked upon with promise as an admirable location for health and tourist resorts, and now this promise is being realized. Plans for hotels, etc.
are being arranged, as well as boat houses, and the most modern pleasure yachts will soon glide over the surface of this beautiful lake.

But a few weeks ago lots were placed on the market, and the agents have had their hands full attending to purchasers.
Prices run from $150 up. For further particulars

Nervous Condition

Results From Kidney Trouble

Sick kidneys make you feel sick in a number of ways and it is now known that a nervous condition often results from kidney trouble. When the kidneys are sick the whole system becomes irritated, causing headache, dizzy spells, fits of "blues," neuralgic attacks, rheumatic pains, weak eyesight, tired days, and a constant inclination to worry over trifles.

Booth's Kidney Pills strengthen sick kidneys, cure headache, regulate the urine and restore to normal conditions. They are guaranteed. All dealers sell at 50c. box, or postpaid from The E. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. If you would like to test them free write for a trial box. Sold and guaranteed by S. J. Watson, Frank.

The World's Greatest
Male Voice Choir

No musical event in the Dominion since the famous tour of the Sheffield Choir last spring is of greater interest than the tour of the Royal Moelwyn Male Choir. The choir consists of 25 admirably-trained Welsh vocalists, their repertoire is an extensive one and a large part of every performance is devoted to Welsh National music.

The Canadian tour commences with concerts at Montreal and the choir will travel through to Vancouver and back, taking in all important points.

An opportunity will be given to music lovers of The Pass to hear this famous aggregation on Tuesday, January 23rd, at the Blairmore Opera House. The tour is being conducted for a philanthropic purpose. It has been arranged by David Davies, the wealthy shipbuilder of Wales, for the purpose of raising money for the suppression of tuberculosis in the gallant little principality, and the twenty-five accomplished vocalists are giving their services free. Already these crusaders have raised $500,000, and a further $100,000 is needed.

DON'T LET THAT COUGH
ROB YOU OF SLEEP

You probably know all too well how it feels. Just as you close your eyes to sleep, there you are—screaming. A good cough, still asleep. A harder cough, and then another. First thing you know, you're wide awake, coughing your head off.

A few nights of that and you're so worn out and weakened that the cough takes a tight grip on you.

Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne will soothe that irritating cough, loosen the phlegm and clear the throat. It is a safe, non-membrane. It not only stops the cough quickly, allowing you to get sound, refreshing sleep at last, but it goes to the root of the trouble and cures it completely. Children willingly take Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne, because it tastes so good. You can't afford to let it get away from you in 25¢ and 50¢ bottles. ## MAKES RECORD SHIPMENT

C. P. R. Transports a Shipment of Horses from St. Paul to Vancouver

In Record Time

Railway shippers and especially shippers of live stock will be interested in the record made by the Soo Line and the Canadian Pacific Railways in transporting a shipment of horses from St. Paul to Vancouver last month. The shipment which consisted of one hundred and fifty thoroughbred horses was made from Lexington, Kentucky, by Irving H. Wheatecroft, a retired United States railroad man, and the owner of several stock farms. He shipped his stock via the Soo Line and the Canadian Pacific Railway, the only stipulation of import made by Mr. Wheatecroft was that the horses should be delivered in good condition at Vancouver in no more than six days after they had left St. Paul.

In loading the horses, the C. P. R. not only made delivery at Vancouver within the six days but cut the time down to under four days, three days and twenty hours to be exact. The usual train consisted of the horses, left Minneapolis at 10:15 a.m. on October 13th. On October 14th, at 11 p.m. it reached Fortin and at 1 a.m. Fortin and again at 8:05 o'clock. The trip over the C.P.R. line from Fortin was made in sixty two hours. Vancouver received the horses on October 17th. This is remarkably good time and on the arrival of the horses at Vancouver Mr. Wheatecroft complimented the Canadian Pacific Railway officials on the high standard of their freight service.

The horses were eventually shipped to Australia on the steamship "Kish" which sailed from Vancouver on October 30th.

A Common Fact

"Your friend, the professor, may have a remarkable tongue for language, but there is one tongue he will probably never use again. What one is that?"

"Uis wifys."

Shiloh's Cure

"I am going to get married. Michel says she will be my wife on one condition, and I can't enter college with less than four."

Diseases Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the deepest parts of the ear. There is only one way to do this—by the use of a special instrument. Doseine is made by an Englishman, the instrument is a small tube which when inserted into the ear, the fluid is released and the ear is rinsed. You have a running sound or impulsive sound, and when this is done, the ear is healed as a result, and unless the inflammation can be kept from recurring, the ear will never be healthy again. The ear will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten, unless the ear is treated by Doseine, but an informed doctor can tell you this.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any new discovery in the treatment of ear diseases, by Isaac Catherwood, 100,000,000.00.

Send this money for consolation.

A Good Name

There are men who say they do not care for their reputation. They will take care of their character and let their reputation take care of itself. But they are not wise. It is our duty to give our name care of our character and our reputation. A man's reputation is a large part of his capital. The business man must have a good name or his business will not prosper.

A good name is an essential thing for a young man who goes out to find his fortune. If he has a good name, who will employ him? When one's reputation is tarnished his influence is gone. When the good name of a man is gone, it is hard to get it back. In the tongue of slander, most people will say it is a natural occurrence which could not be avoided; and some will say it is a natural development of life. It is not always so. Sometimes it is a clear case of giving that which is holy the dog.

If young people are prudent and careful, they need not the appearance of evil they might, as a rule, escape the shame and humiliation of a bad name. But if they are not, and if they are not careful, they will be in a position where they might not be. They often get into company which awakens suspicion. If they are warned of the danger, they should be more careful, and do not sentimental. They are not afraid. They may be innocent, but they are not prudent.

A good name, which has been handed down through many generations without a spot, is worth guarding with scrupulous care. "Give not that which is holy to the dogs."

Judge a Joker

It is easy for a judge to be a humorist. If you don't laugh at jokes he can send you to another place for punishment, or a court, and if you are not careful, you will be.

One of this kidney was recently addressing a shy witness—a milkman, who had served the plaintiff in the case.

"Come on, man!" he said. And the barristers saw the twinkle in his eye and got ready to guffaw. "Speak up; don't be too shy. You never served me with anything like it."

"Haw-haw!" laughed the Bar. And the clerk appropriately chimed in with a milk, my lord," said the witness.

"With what, then?" said the George Robey. "Haw-haw," said the clerk, still with a milk, my lord," said the witness.

"A summons for debt, my lord. It was about twenty years ago, and I was working for Casey, the tailor, then a lad."

"You summons for debt, my lord?"

"No, sir," said the witness.

"I am a witness," said the witness.

"I am a witness," said the witness.

Unfortunate

"Ah, it is a superb Magnifique," cried the French aviator, as he aviated through space a thousand dizzy feet above the blue sea. "And when you have seen it, you will say 'Bravo!' and wave your hats with enthusiasm."

"A summons for debt, my lord. It was about twenty years ago, and I was working for Casey, the tailor, then a lad."

"You summons for debt, my lord?"

"No, sir," said the witness.

"I am a witness," said the witness.

"I am a witness," said the witness.

BOY ON RAMPAGE.

Humpy Skinner Runs Amuck With a Wheelbarrow.

HE CLEARS THE SIDEWALKS.

Wild Chase After a Companion Results in Serious Damage to All Who Get in the Way—After Committing Many Assaults He Falls to the Ground.

By G. J. GARD.

(Copyright, 1914, by Associated Literary Press.)

HIS was a new experience in the life of Humpy Skinner, aged fourteen. New experiences had been coming to him every day since he was old enough to realize that a licking always followed his breaking a pane of glass, but this was something out of the ordinary.

He had been sent with a wheelbarrow to get a bushel of sand for household purposes, and the sooner he had his task the better he was in the consciousness of power. Pedestrians gave the wheelbarrow, and the boy a wide berth. Both men and women knew that no more deadly combination existed, while younger and smaller folks had something yet to learn.

Up near the corner was an odious man leaning against the fence as he surveyed a vacant house with a to rent sign on the door. He was wondering how many rooms the house contained, and, whether it was haunted, when Humpy Skinner noticed him and tried an experiment. He shut his eyes tight and tried to imagine what could come to the man's heels with his wheelbarrow. He had a distance of forty feet to go, and he managed, matters so well that he ran the wheelbarrow into the jeans of the man and knocked his legs out from under him. "By gosh, but what are you trying to do?" shouted the man as he struggled up.

"TRIED TO CRIPPLE ME, DID YOU?"

Repelled by Wheelbarrow.—"I thought that I would see now I could graze you," was the calm reply. "Oh, you did, eh? Then you willfully, wantonly, and with a willful, infernal thing against my legs to do? You, boy, lemme get hold of you once!"

"Are you such a lunckhead that you don't know that a wheelbarrow is an infernal machine? You have no right running it on the sidewalk. Begone with it before I get my paws on you! The idea of turning a boy of your age loose to maim and cripple and slaughter!"

Humpy was suppressed for the moment and got his barrow in motion after two collisions with the fence and safely turned the next corner—that is, it went on to the sidewalk. He had driven three pedestrians off the sidewalk, and of them one came near falling on the pavement and recovered himself to shout:

"Boy, why didn't they give you a package of dynamite and turn you loose? But, boy, but it's so good that a man's life isn't safe even on the roof of his house."

Asked to Suck Eggs.—Two minutes later the Jackson boy came down the street on the opposite side. He had been to the grocery and had a dozen eggs and three bars of soap under his arm.

"Hello, Humpy! Where you going?" he called out.

"After sand."

"Come over now we'll suck some eggs." It was a great temptation to Humpy. He had sucked eggs before, and his Adam's apple worked up and down as he remembered how speedily and satisfactorily he had stopped down his throat and brought consciousness to him for an hour afterward. That was before he had ever started to run a wheelbarrow, on the sidewalk, however. Now he somehow fell that eggs sucking was a boyish trick and far safer than wheelbarrowing. He had seen that men and women were afraid of his barrow, and he wondered if boys would be—if Tim Jackson would be. The only way to find out was to make a test.

Chases the Jackson Boy.

While the eyes of the other boy were upon him in envy and mood Humpy rose up, grasped the handles of the barrow and made a furious dash across the street. Had it been a runaway ice wagon Tim would have stopped behind the nearest shade tree. As it was, there was something so menacing about things that he turned and fled, running as fast as he could within ten feet of him. Humpy was a wharpoor and pursued, and eggs and soap were scattered on the sidewalk.

No living man or boy can push a wheelbarrow very far in a straight line, no matter how slow his pace.

To run his chum is like a tall fellow in a short suit.

Humpy tickled the legs of half a dozen men, almost ran into three trees and scared a grocer's horse into a runaway, but his ardor didn't subside until he struck a fat man and brought him down with a great crash.

Talk From the Fat Man.

A cold sweat broke out upon him and seized the boy and the barrow until it could be ascertained whether the fat man had been killed on the spot or only crippled for life. It was two minutes before the question was decided.

Then the fat man rose up and began to talk. "I'm a man of the world, about a hundred bad names. He threatened him with over 200 kinds of punishment. He abused his father and vowed he would never take his hat off to his mother, and the way he did rip that old wheelbarrow up the back put a new meaning on the word 'harm'."

"I don't know what this is all about," said Humpy when the fat man had finally got out of breath.

"But you run him over, hit, don't wheelbarrow!" exclaimed the cobbler.

"How could I help it? Haven't I a right to run a boy with my own wheelbarrow?"

"Maybe so, but have you some rights to run a fat man over?"

"But he got in the way. When he saw me coming, why didn't he climb a fence or dodge into a store?"

"Fear the cold blooded villain talk!" groaned the victim. "Why, boy, why—why?"

Dog Was Unsuspecting.

And then he swatted on a scald, and when he ran in face and gashed his breath at could say no more. The cobbler went to get him on the back and lead him into a sewing machine shop where new and secondhand machines were sold on the installment plan, and Humpy took advantage of the occasion to get a new one.

He had picked up a little as he passed on, but, only for a short time. He saw a large dog standing on the corner. It was its master, was the master of the dog, was the dog's master.

"I wonder if that hair is his own?"

The old man who sat beside her had been a man who had turned with a benevolent smile.

"No, miss," he implored picantly, "that is his Schwartz's!"

Not His Hair.

It was a very fashionable concert and the artist very well known ones, but the two young things were too busy in the fact and gashed their teeth to bear the music. In the midst of a beautiful selection, the pianist suddenly lifted his hands from the keys and the young things were heard to say clearly.

"I wonder if that hair is his own?"

The old man who sat beside her had been a man who had turned with a benevolent smile.

"No, miss," he implored picantly, "that is his Schwartz's!"

Truth Will Out.

The candidate (having quoted the words of an eminent scientist in support of an argument) and alms must be taken just as quickly if the result is to be a success.

Easy Victory for Blairmore Hockey Players

The Blairmore hockey players defeated a strong aggregation from Cowley on the Blairmore rink on Saturday evening last by a score of 6-3. The visitors arrived on the "local" shortly after 7 p.m. and the game was started about 80 minutes later. In the first half Blairmore scored six goals while their opponents made one. In the second half although the home team played around the visitors' goal during the greater part of the time, they did not succeed in bulging the net but by two clever shots by Labrie, one shot on a pass from Sharp, the visitors secured 2 goals.

There were over a hundred present, many of whom were out-of-town folk. The game was interesting and was practically void of lirly or unfair play. Both teams deserve credit for the splendid exhibition of the great winter game which so many delight to witness. By a very clever play, Clarkson scored the first goal, that was made by the visitors. Lewis got in a good piece of work when he broke through the visitors and scored for Blairmore. Geddard and Turner played remarkably well and so did all the players. The line up was as follows:

Blairmore	Cowley
Dellis	goal McNeill
Lewis	point Snider
Shera	c. p. Shepherd
Turner	rover Van dusen
Geddard	centre Sharp
Horton	l. wing Labrie
Baker	r. wing Clarkson

Sport is Abused

On Sunday evening a large number of people attended the Central Baptist Church and listened to an able discourse by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Hunter, on the subject: "Lessons Learned From a Hockey Game." The preacher took as his text: "I press toward the goal for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." The speaker said that amateur sport was a splendid thing if conducted properly, but the betting indulged in at most of the games was deplorable and had a tendency to degeneracy. The users of obscene talk came in for some criticism as well as the bettors, and the reverent gentleman declared that the language indulged in by many of the spectators was far from being elevating. He hoped to see a speedy end to this unpleasant state of affairs.

The speaker held the closest attention of his audience while he delivered unto them a sermon of great length and much interest. He dwelt for some time on the goal to one of which each of us is destined, and impressed upon his hearers the necessity of playing a good clean honest game all through life so that they may at last reach that goal of which St. Paul speaks in his epistles to the Philippians.

Jack Frost Lingers

This district is suffering from a long visit from Jack Frost and his exit is anxiously looked for by all excepting the coal and wood dealer. On Friday last the thermometer dropped to 41 below zero and it has hovered around in that neighborhood almost continuously ever since. Many a check that heretofore he'd never been touched by anybody, is now suffering from Jack's heartless use, and the kind words that have been showered upon his lingering visitor would fill volumes.

There was no further business and the meeting adjourned.

License By-Law Is Given Its Final Reading

A meeting of the Blairmore town council was held in the Beebe block on Thursday evening last. The mayor and all the councillors were present. This was not the regular night of meeting and but very little business was done. The third and final reading of the license by-law was left for the next night of meeting.

The following bills were read and ordered paid: Manitoba Stamp & Stencil Works, $5; The Crow's Nest Pass Hardware, $5; H. G. Bigelow, $5.90; W. L. Shera, $37.00; the Blairmore Enterprise, $9.30.

The collector of dog taxes informed the council that there were sufficient dogs in town to yield in taxes nearly $500. In all there were 127 canines, 81 dogs and 46 bitches, the former to be taxed $2 and the latter $1, each.

The following were appointed on the cemetery committee: Rev. J. F. Hunter, Rev. A. S. Tod and F. E. Hinds.

The council then adjourned to meet again on the following Monday evening.

The council met on Monday pursuant to adjournment. There were present, Mayor Lyon, Councillor Sinclair, Ward, Palmer and McLeod.

The first business of importance brought forward was the third and final reading of the license by-law of which department Councillor McLeod is chairman. The by-law passed its final reading successfully with the bare exception of one amendment, and this was regarding the closing of pool rooms and bowling alleys.

Dutil—Farmer—That all pool rooms and bowling alleys be closed at 1 a.m. and remain closed until 6 a.m. on all week nights excepting Saturday on which night the said places of amusement are to be closed at 12 o'clock and remain closed until Monday at 6 a.m.

Sinclair—MacLeod moved the following amendment to the former motion: That pool rooms and bowling alleys be allowed to remain open every night as well as every day in the week excepting Sunday.

Councillors Dutil and Farmer voted for the motion, and Councillor Sinclair and McLeod declared in favor of the amendment. This resulted in a tie, and the Mayor giving a casting vote supported the motion, thus making it necessary for the pool rooms and bowling alleys to be closed at 1 a.m.

The secretary was instructed to take all steps necessary to have all ice brought into town thoroughly tested and inspected and if any person or persons are known to be storing ice that is in an unsanitary condition they are to be reported to the council when the law will be allowed to take its course.

Sinclair—Farmer—That finance committee be permitted to dispose of town debentures at not less than per.

Dutil—MacLeod—That finance committee call for tenders through some financial publication.

Councillors Dutil and McLeod voted for the amendment, and Councillors Sinclair and Farmer voted for the motion. The motion was carried by the Mayor's casting vote.

There was no further business and the meeting adjourned.

Christmas Number

of Rod and Gun

Ful of winter flavor and reminiscence of the time of year is the December (Christmas) number of Rod and Gun in Canada published by W. J. Taylor Limited, Woodstock, Ont. "Feeding Prairie Chickens in Winter" is a story which every lover of the Wild will peruse with the keenest pleasure. It shows in every line how much real gratification can be obtained from a little attention to the wants of the birds during the winter weather and how observations, laying up a store of pleasant memories, can be obtained, the minimum of trouble giving the maximum reward. "Lost in a Manitoba Blizzard," "Animal Sanctuaries in Labrador" and the "Literature of Angling" show the wide interest excited by this number and illustrate the manner in which sportsmen of the most varied tastes are catered to. These papers can all be read by the general reader with both pleasure and profit, and the work done in this way for Canada is not to be measured by the fact that primarily the magazine appeals to sportsmen. There are many sporting articles from seal hunting to bear hunting including that most strenuous sport of all—mountain climbing. A fine Christmas present is a subscription to Canada's leading sportsman's magazine.
